Art Unit 212

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

Page 5, line 5, "a" should be deleted; page 8, line 26, "19" should be -- 17 -- .

Appropriate correction of the disclosure is required.

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The specification is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to provide an adequate written description of the invention. The examiner asserts that the description of voltage regulator 11 is inadequate, because the examiner is unaware of any "conventional" voltage regulator having two outputs of the type recited, that is, one output signal having a frequency several thousand times greater than the other. Applicants' submitted Prior Art does not disclose such a device. For applicants to show conventionality, they must show evidence that such a device was known prior to the filing date of the instant application. As submitted, however, the regulator's disclosure is inadequate.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for the reasons set forth in the above objection to the specification.

Art Unit 212

4. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The use of the word "between" in claim 1 and claim 4 in the instant application is confusing and vague. The preposition "between" implies two objects, i.e., "between" object A and object B. Claim 1, however, recites "between a maximum power source voltage potential" on lines 17-18, and "between a predetermined power source voltage potential" on lines 32-33. Between (said potential) and what?

Claims 2-17 are rejected since they incorporate the language of claim 1.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Marc S. Hoff at telephone number 703-557-7657.
